The Good & Bad Of 'Just Around The Corner' 29 September 2006 | by ccthemovieman-1 â€“ See all my reviews. Here's a so-so Shirley Temple entry with a catchy song that plays throughout the film. The movie features a bunch of nice characters. The "bad guys" in here - a snotty woman, her butler and a crabby "Uncle Sam" - aren't overly mean and don ...

Just Around the Corner (1938) - IMDb

Was just around the corner. 2. Thereâ€™s a house down in the valley. And a house high on the hill. There is singing by the river. As the water flows and turns the mill. The golden fields are waiting. Let the harvesting begin. Once the world weâ€™re living in. Was just around the corner.
